

Theoretical Inquiries in Law

Volume 2, Number 2, July 2001

Protecting Investors in a Global Economy

Contents

Roberta Romano	The Need for Competition in International Securities Regulation	387
Merritt B. Fox	The Issuer Choice Debate	563
Stephen J. Choi	Assessing Regulatory Responses to Securities Market Globalization	613
Howell E. Jackson	Centralization, Competition, and Privatization in Financial Regulation	649
Amir N. Licht	David's Dilemma: A Case Study of Securities Regulation in a Small Open Market	673
Edward B. Rock	Greenhorns, Yankees, and Cosmopolitans: Venture Capital, IPOs, Foreign Firms, and U.S. Markets	711
William W. Bratton &amp; Joseph A. McCahery	Incomplete Contracts Theories of the Firm and Comparative Corporate Governance	745
Ronald J. Gilson &amp; Alan Schwartz	Sales and Elections as Methods for Transferring Corporate Control	783
Zohar Goshen	Voting (Insincerely) in Corporate Law	815
Omri Yadlin	Is Stock Manipulation Bad? Questioning the Conventional Wisdom with Evidence from the Israeli Experience	839
Jesse M. Fried	Open Market Repurchases: Signaling or Managerial Opportunism?	865